Birds Of Kuwait

Kuwait's migratory birds

kuwait, 15.11.2015, 08:46 Time

USPA NEWS - Kuwait is enriched with wide variety of birds. and its a base land & resting & nesting plave for migratory birds.here i will be sharing my collection of migratory birds images taken during the first & end quarter of 2015.

Here i will be sharing my collection of migratory birds images taken during the first & end quarter of 2015. As usual, me and my photobuddies spent our friday mornings chasing birds as early as 4am. we have discovered new areas not known to everyone. A place we can call Kuwait paradise where beautiful flowers bloom, grassy lawn and loads of birds. :)

Earlier this year, there were plenty of birds in the gardens of kuwait. 2 of them are Common Starling and Eurasian Wryneck. Both were captured in Rumaithiya Garden.This year, i am very happy to see loads of European bee eaters in several locations such as salmiya, rumaithiya, abuhalifa, jahra, al salam area, funaitees etc...Luckily, i also managed to capture a beautiful Rose ringed parakeet unexpectedly while shooting bee eaters somewhere in funaitees.And got some good pictures of Rufous-tailed scrub robin. It was a great day for birding in jahra reserve, some of my friends moved to kabad desert areas to search for special birds. Afterwards, I got a call from them saying they have found this beauty! - Eurasian Scops Owl
